The National Examination Board in Occupational Safety and Health (NEBOSH) is an independent awarding body based in the UK attracting 25,000 candidates each year worldwide. NEBOSH qualifications are recognized and respected by employers in all industry sectors on an international scale and provide the benchmark standard in health & safety. They are also recognized by the relevant professional membership bodies including the Institution of Occupational Safety and Health (IOSH) and the International Institute of Risk and Safety Management (IIRSM).

What does the course cover?

The NEBOSH HSW is divided into two units: HSW1 (Workplace safety foundations) and HSW2 (Workplace risk assessment).

• Unit HSW1 Workplace safety foundations

Unit HSW1 is a taught unit, assessed by a one hour multiple choice examination. It is divided into a number of elements:

1. The foundations of health and safety,
2. The responsibility for health and safety,
3. Health and safety risk assessment and control,
4. Hazards and control associated with work equipment,
5. Transport safety,
6. Hazards and control associated with electricity,
7. Fire safety,
8. Hazards and control associated with manual handling and repetitive movement,
9. Hazards and control associated with hazardous substances,
10. Hazards and control associated with the working environment.

• Unit HSW2 Workplace risk assessment

Unit HSW2 is the workplace-based risk assessment activity. It is assessed by a one-hour practical assessment carried out in the candidate's own workplace.

What are the benefits from NEBOSH HSW?

- Get a safer workplace: health and safety is important. Its protect people from injury and loss of life. The NEBOSH HSW Qualification gives vital health and safety know-how so people can make a difference and help reduce accidents, control costs, protect your reputation and avoid legal action.
- Assurance: An employer whose staff is NEBOSH qualified is an employer that is committed to health and safety. The NEBOSH HSW Qualification provides an assurance of safety – something that can help you achieve recognized standards and can even help you win new business.
- Return on investment: An employee with a NEBOSH HSW Qualification has a practical set of skills that will bring real value to your workplace. This qualification tests these practical skills in your workplace right away.

Why taking our NEBOSH HSW e-learning?

- Flexibility: start at any time and work at your own speed anywhere. You can access our e-learning platform via phone, tablet and computer.
- Cost-effective: e-learning eliminates the need to bring the trainer and learner together in the same place at the same time. Also, the training can be conducted in short sessions, spread over several weeks, instead of losing the employee for a whole day or several days at a time.
- Unlimited support: chat, e-mail and phone access to our team of NEBOSH experts.
- Online resources: the online course is designed to take you through the course step by step, including quizzes alongside our complete course notes.
- Online forums & chat room: where you can discuss issues raised during your course with fellow students and your trainers.
- Exam locations internationally using British Councils and partners. We will try to find an exam in your preferred location

How the course is assessed?

Through a multiple choice examination and a practical risk assessment in your workplace which tests the ability to put into practice the course theory.

A qualification parchment will be awarded on successful completion of both assessments.

Knowledge Compass offers exams in UAE. If you are looking to take exams elsewhere, we can arrange for exams to be taken in over 80 countries worldwide via our Partners like the British Council.
